SULZBACHER INTERVIEWED.

He Returns To Kansas City From Porto Rico To Spend Vacation.

Judge Louis Sulzbacher formerly of Las Vegas has returned to Kansas City from Porto Rico and will spend his summer vacation there with his family. He declares it is hotter in Kansas City than in San Juan where his court sits.

"We know no snow there," said he Saturday to a reporter for the Kansas City Journal, "and perhaps we know less of the heat than we should do because we prepare for it. For instance, we never think of sleeping on a mattress, but content ourselves with a quilt thrown across woven springs. In other details we discount the thermometer."

Judge Sulzbacher says the Porto Ricans are making rapid progress towards being Americanized.

"Always a peaceable people," he said, "they were not for war with us. They are not obliged to learn English in their schools, but almost universally they have set out to learn our tongue. Little children sit, in classes with old folks, and together they study. With the aged progress is slow, but the youngsters pick it up rapidly. The street gamblers swear like troopers, and I am sorry to say that is about the first intimation an American gets that the island is becoming assimilated."

Although San Juan is but a day's voyage from the island of Martinique, Judge Sulzbacher did not visit the ill-fated territory during the terrible days of May.

"Yet we knew nightly when Mont Pelee was in eruption," said the judge. "The sunsets we beheld were terrifying. From pole to pole, the western horizon ran blood. Nothing in red we have ever seen in our own skies was like that which met our eyes in Porto Rico. Of the disaster we had been told; bad news travels. Many of our citizens hurried to the scene, morbidly curious, else anxious for news of friends or relatives, but none of it for me. I was near enough, for they came back and told us it was too dangerous to land. So we remained at home, and as the sun would drop into the sea, we would stand by and read in the bloody western skies that the awful Mont Pelee had again burst its bounds. The dust came over that 1000 miles of sea to us, settling in the rain casks, collected there from the roofs of our houses."

A Funny Experience.

A contributor says: A young man of Co. H had a funny experience a few days ago. While he was hunting rabbits on the bottom near Hilton's ranch the report of his gun frightened a horse hitched to a pump causing him to pull the pump from its moorings, wrench the well from its socket, and start for Denver at a rapid gait. The problem that stares the young man in the face is to replace the well in its socket and make it fit the hole in the ground. That rabbit is going to cost the young man dear. Before he goes hunting again he will see that all the wells in the neighborhood are securely spiked down and every forty-foot derrick weighted down with masonry. Ask the young man himself about the truth of this incident, or go down and see for yourself. The hole in the ground is open for inspection.

Guns Found Buried.

An interesting discovery was made this morning by a boy named Sims Davis in the neighborhood of the S. P. railroad tracks near the foot of Gold Avenue, where the Bisbee railroad didn't build the depot. While walking along, the lad noticed the rusty barrel of a gun sticking out of the ground and upon digging it up another and another was disclosed until in all he uncovered twelve guns. They are army guns and very rusty. No doubt they have been buried thirty years or more by some soldiers.—Deming Herald.

Photographer C. C. Harlan, of Eaton, O., can do so now, though for years he couldn't because he suffered untold agony from the worst form of indigestion. All physicians and medicines failed to help him till he tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for him that he declares they are a godsend to sufferers from dyspepsia and stomach troubles. Unraveled diseases of the stomach, liver and kidneys, they build up and give new life to the whole system. Try them. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.

When you wake up with a bad taste in your mouth, go at once to A. E. Howell, Socorro, or W. M. Borrowdale, Magdalena, drug store and get a free sample of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. They also cure biliousness, sick headache and constipation.

AFTER TWENTY-FOUR YEARS.

P. N. Yunker Meets His Daughter Whom He Left a Babe in Her Mother's Arms.

It lacks but a year of a quarter of a century since P. N. Yunker of this city left his home in the province of North Schleswig, Germany, to seek his fortune in America. The remaining occupants of that home were a wife and infant daughter. Shortly afterwards the mother died. The daughter was taken into a family of relatives by whom she was reared to womanhood.

Mr. Yunker has prospered. Some time ago he wrote his daughter to come to him. July 27 she left her home in the fatherland and crossed an ocean and more than half a continent to meet her father, who must have had no place in her dimmest recollection. She made the long journey in safety and Monday morning in Albuquerque father and daughter met. They came on to Socorro the next morning.

Miss Yunker will now of course make her home with her father at the Windsor. She is learning the English language rapidly and will no doubt soon feel as strong a love for her American home as she did for the home across the sea.

Dysentery Cured Without the Aid of a Doctor.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery) says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by A. E. Howell, Socorro, and W. M. Borrowdale, Magdalena.

NORMAL INSTITUTE.

Fair Attendance, Good Interest, and Satisfactory Work.

The teacher's institute for Socorro county now in session in this city has been fairly well attended this week and good interest has been manifested in the work assigned. The session will continue until Friday of next week when the regular August examination will begin. Superintendent Elfrigo Baca is expected to be present next week at both the institute and the examination. Doctor Keyes, the newly elected director of the faculty of the School of Mines, has partly promised to deliver a lecture before the institute on some popular subject connected with his line of work.

The total enrollment at the institute is now twenty-two, as follows: Misses Mamie Cortez, Lizzie Morris, Josie De Baun, Nellie Vigil, Sister Angelica, Sister Mary Basil, Carlota Sayles, and Daisy Louise Wentworth; Messrs. David Flores, Avelino Lopez, P. A. Marcellino, Ciriaco Jofola, Julian J. Trujillo, C. H. Kirkpatrick, Martin Lopez, José M. Lopez, Apolonio Valles, Donaciano Torres, Romualdo Gonzales, Candelario B. Sedillo, E. M. Chavez, and Garibaldi Vigil.

Boy Cured of Colic After Physician's Treatment Had Failed.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis. Mr. Wilkins is book-keeper for the Shell Lake Lumber Co. For sale by A. E. Howell, Socorro; and W. M. Borrowdale, Magdalena.

Mr. Curran says that work on the big concentrator being installed in the Cooney district by the Mogollon Gold and Copper company, is going on famously. The concentrator will be ready for business before the first of March. The ore of the mines operated by the Mogollon Gold and Copper Co. carries gold silver and copper. There is enough in sight to keep the big plant going for a year, and the uncovered veins promise inexhaustible treasure.—Albuquerque Journal-Democrat.

Burley Items.

Burley, N. M., Aug. 16.

To THE CHIEFTAIN:

Business is fine here at present.

R. H. Wylie has been digging a well up near Pueblo Viejo. He has not found water yet but the prospects are very good.

N. A. Field has been away from home for over five weeks and will probably not return for a week more. When he does return he will feel better, for when he left there was no sign of rain.

It has been very dry here for two months but we were blessed with a fine rain yesterday and last night. Stock is looking bad now but will not suffer any more this year for want of feed and water in this part of the county.

Survivor of Quantrell's Raid.

Today, 39 years ago, Quantrell's raid and massacre at Lawrence, Kas., took place. Mrs. Mugler, of this city, was then a resident of that town and most vividly remembers the awful occurrences of the burning of the town and of the massacre of about 200 of its citizens. Her residence and property were also burned and the family lost all it possessed. Mr. Mugler was one of the citizens of that town who was caught by the raiders and compelled to apply the torch to his own dwelling. He managed to escape and hide in a corn field for a couple of days. Mrs. Mugler is of the opinion that she is the only person, certainly in Santa Fe, and probably in New Mexico, who was an eye witness to that memorable occasion.—New Mexican.
